

THE DIAMOND APPROACH[®]

NEW GROUP FORMING IN DC

"This is the mystery: the true person includes the universal, includes the Divine. To be oneself means to be the synthesis of all that exists as you; to be you. You are the fruit of the universe." -A. H. Almaas

Who am I? When posed with sincerity, this question activates a process of self-discovery that moves us inward toward the mysterious heart of our deepest nature. The Diamond Approach path supports this revelatory journey where love and understanding converge in a process of open-ended inquiry.

Who am I? This path supports your own unique process of self-revelation. If the question is a whisper in the wind passing through your mind, or a flicker in your heart, perhaps this path is the right support for your journey home to yourself.

The Diamond Approach is an ongoing unfoldment of spiritual wisdom and knowledge about how this wisdom integrates into our lives. Groups become powerful vehicles for the work necessary for real transformation.

We are excited to be opening a third group in the DC area, the first having been launched in 1999. We will be offering a series of introductory teachings in 2020: June 13, September 26 and December 5. All are welcome to join us.

Saturday September 19, 2020

This group will be led by Diamond Approach teachers Victoria Young and Leah Chyten. Before becoming a teacher in 2006, Victoria practiced psychotherapy for 20 years. She has worked with groups in Italy and Atlanta, GA, and now leads groups in Berkeley, CA and Washington, DC. Leah has been a teacher since 2007 and facilitates groups in the New England area. She is also a psychotherapist and novelist.
