THE CONTEMPORARY PILGRIM: SUPPORT ALONG THE WAY

A New Diamond Approach Group Forming

In this second meeting of this new Diamond Approach group, we will continue to explore what it means to be a spiritual pilgrim in today's world. Our focus will be on developing the orientation of the Diamond Approach -- openness to our experience, curiosity and kindness toward that experience, and the ability to be more fully in our immediate experience.

The ordinariness of our journey through life, with its joys, vicissitudes, and the surprise of the unexpected, can ignite our desire to become more real, and more truly human. We want to discover what this might mean for each of us. We want to discover what a human being actually is, and to recognize the preciousness of our unique and particular path through life, a path that can lead us to the fundamental Truth of our nature.

But what do we need for this journey? What will support and guide and nurture us along the way? How can we more freely engage this sacred journey that is our life? We will turn our attention to these questions when we meet on May 18, 2019.
