

THE DIAMOND APPROACH®

THE DEVOTED HEART: AN INTRODUCTORY EVENING

In some spiritual traditions, devotion is seen as a magical quality, the essence of the path, the most sure and swift way to the truth. When we see devotion in our fellow human beings it often arouses our admiration and respect. And at times we might find ourselves flinching away from it, as if it's too much. In the Diamond Approach, devotion is central. It is the dynamic, selfless love for what is real and true. It carries us along the path.

In this introductory talk, we will explore devotion - the experience of it, the obstacles to it, how it can work in concert with reason and logic, and how the mind can help to free the heart to be truly devoted. All are welcome to join us for a taste of our approach to the inner journey, and the possibilities of the liberated heart.

The Teacher: Ashley Wain has been a student of the Diamond Approach for two decades. He was ordained as a teacher in 2016 after completing the ten-year Ridhwan Seminary Training Program. He lives in Melbourne, Australia, and teaches for Diamond Approach New Zealand and Diamond Approach Australia.
