

THE DIAMOND APPROACH®

March 2020

Our Inner Core
Is Not Touched by the Accidents of Time

We live in the present situation guided by true inner conscience, to safeguard our health and inner realization, and to help each other and the global community to minimize the severity of the crisis. We are in this all together.

- A.H. Almaas, co-founder of the Diamond Approach

We live in the present situation guided by true inner conscience, where we conduct ourselves not only to safeguard our health and inner realization, but and to help each other and the global community in its effort to minimize the severity of the crisis. We are in it all together, but remember that our inner core is not touched by the accidents of time.

- A.H. Almaas, co-founder of the Diamond Approach
