

THE END IS ONLY THE BEGINNING

A weekend journey into the mystery

We have this idea in our minds that the end of something means the end of everything. We have been acculturated in believing letting go is a bad thing, so we spend much of our lives fighting change. As a result of our fighting change, we end up only visiting this world, instead of deeply experiencing it, which then causes us to miss out on this precious opportunity to journey into the Mystery.

This weekend retreat will continue the journey we began last time with Inquiry and the Lataif. As a part of that journey we need to understand how deeply confronted we are these days with the many issues and challenges in our lives that keep us but mere spectators on this journey of life. We will come to understand that without accessing our Personal Power it becomes almost impossible for us to show up and to commit to that which is most true and authentic.

During this retreat we will look at ways to access this Person of Power so that this Real and Authentic Person of Power can be the one that navigates and guides us into the Mystery. It is only in that power we actually discover what the Heart has longed for our entire lives, which is a sense of Peace throughout our life's journey.

We will also explore how this inner journey home requires a great deal of compassion and sensitivity for all those many things that we leave behind. We will work with the Pearl, the personal aspect of essence, because without activating the Pearl we are not able to recognize what is most authentic.
