

Following the journey of your unfolding soul

Introduction weekend online to the Diamond Approach®

June 5 - 7, 2020

The Diamond Approach is a contemporary spiritual path based on modern discoveries in the field of psychology and a deep understanding of the spiritual dimension of our human nature.

This path emphasizes the unique unfolding of each individual soul.

The Diamond Approach uses inquiry as a main practice to invite your personal experience to open up into further discoveries.

In this workshop we want to explore in which way your daily life experience can become a doorway into living your human potential more fully.

Allowing your experience in the here and now, accepting and understanding it for what it is, invites the soul in a continuous process of opening with no end.

Inviting and trusting your experience brings you closer to a natural flow of development which can be experienced as following your personal thread of unfoldment. You will start to experience the support of the optimizing force and intelligence of Being.

Inquiry is a practice that can happen at any time at any place. In this workshop we will focus on some specific qualities that will facilitate the process of inquiry, like allowing, accepting and trusting.

Included will be bodywork, meditation and inquiry. There will be time for personal exploration and sharing.

This weekend is open for anyone interested in the Diamond Approach and for people, who want to deepen their inquiry skills.
