Love is a doorway that opens the spiritual journey. The Diamond Approach recognizes many types of love and their importance to the soul's unfolding. During our time together, we will explore the inherent richness of love and a variety of ways we can know it: love as delight, love as compassion, love as the intimate connection to the deep mystery of our nature.

This event will be led by Anne Hoff, a teacher of the Diamond Approach. It is an introductory event, open to both students of the Diamond Approach and newcomers curious to learn about this path.
